Development/Plan Review Department

City of Albuquerque, NM

To whom it may concern:

For the past few weeks I have been trying to get a permit for a storage building behind the now existing house on 3806 San Isidro St. NW, Albuquerque 87107, and have found out that the proposed and existing structure are on two lots instead of one. Apparently did not show that on the actual closing papers when the property was purchased. It is on two traditional long irrigation lots and in order to successfully pull a permit they have asked me to survey in order to re-plat and convert it into one. Apparently the Existing house and proposed storage structure sit on both these lots as you can see in the AGIS Zone Atlas map G-13-Z. The city keeps sending me letters about this and I need to resolve this issue as soon as possible, and I'm seeking your expertise.

Sincerely,

Rita N. Orozco
